Whatever Your Taste . . .

Tallahassee, whatever your taste, Jamie and Tricia Thomas' Roly Poly has your number. On April 16th, 2008 the Roly Poly franchise opened their doors here in Tallahassee. You may have already familiarized yourselves with the distinct tastes of the #10, California Turkey or the #23 Key West Cuban at either the Seaside or Gainesville locations. If not, the varieties of flavors await.

The husband and wife team have been here in Tallahassee since first attending college in 1991 for Jamie and 1996 for Tricia. Both are Florida State grads that fell in love with Tallahassee and decided to stick around and raise a family here in the capital city. Jamie's love of restaurants dates back to his college days when he managed The Loop Pizza Grill. He continued his passion for food service while managing SouthGate Campus Centre, which operates a full service dining facility near Florida State's campus.

After deciding to venture out on their own, the hunt was on for a family friendly concept that was not just filled with flavor, but healthy and unique too. "Knowing how time consuming restaurants can be, we wanted to bring a concept to Tallahassee that was different and fun, and would still give us time to spend with our family. That is when we found Roly Poly. After one Roly, we knew we had found it," Jamie stressed.

After finding the perfect location on Capital Circle Northeast, all that was left was bringing aboard the right person to help run it. There was no question that long time friend and colleague, Jon Andolina, was the right choice. Jon, like Jamie and Tricia is a Florida State Alum. Jon headed back to Tallahassee for the Roly Poly adventure.

What is a Roly you ask? Imagine fresh basil chicken salad rolled with crunchy cashews, green leaf lettuce, Roma plum tomatoes, fresh sliced avocado, alfalfa sprouts and spicy Thai hot sauce all rolled in a fresh tortilla. The #30, Basil Cashew Chicken Salad is just one of 100 rolled sandwich selections to choose from. The varieties of flavors that go into every Roly Poly sandwich are delicious, unique and original. The sandwich recipes were developed over the past thirty years by the originators of Roly Poly and include fresh herbs and top quality ingredients in combinations that you just have to taste to believe! Mango chutney, red pepper hummus, sundried tomatoes, artichoke hearts, and fresh sliced avocados are standard ingredients. Vegetarians also have a great choice selection with 12 cold and pressed Vegetarian delights. If it's lean sliced meats and melted cheeses on toasty tortillas you like . . . they have them too! Some may not like the idea that every sandwich comes on either a flour or whole wheat tortilla, but you won't miss the bread with one of the hot pressed favorites.

Roly Poly really does have something for everyone! If you are on a special diet or counting carbs, Roly Poly has eight signature salads and all tortillas were specially created just for Roly Poly to be low on carbs and good on the taste buds. Reduced fat cheeses, dressings and spreads add an even lighter dimension to the menu. Roly Poly is not just delicious but healthy and hearty too! Are you a soup lover? A Roly and a cup of soup make the perfect All American lunch or light dinner. Roasted Garlic Tomato, Harvest Mushroom, Loaded Baked Potato, Chicken and Dumplings, and Roly Poly's signature Baja Chicken Enchilada are just a few of the soup varieties to choose from. For those who stick with the old faithful or for those who want the more eccentric sandwich, roll your own sandwich and make your own creation using some or all of the Roly Poly flavors. Oh, and mom and dad, don't hesitate to bring the kids. They can get a kid's Roly with a fresh fruit salad and a delicious Ottis Spunkmeyer chocolate chip cookie.

What else makes Roly Poly unique? They deliver and cater too! Make Roly Poly your first call when ordering delivery. Even let Roly Poly set you up with one of their eight different sandwich platters. Their catering menu offers a cool selection of party salads, sandwich platters, soups, sides and desserts.
